

Author Visit Sparks Science Interest

Author and Scientist Vicki Cobb visited Charles Campagne on January 23rd. Her visit was arranged by Mrs. Ivers, Librarian. Vicki Cobb discussed being an author and shared information about where her ideas come from. In addition, she performed science experiments that excited and amazed students. Some favorite experiments included: the flying tea bag, floating balls, and paper explosion. Children are still talking about her experiments. The author visit was timed so that this experience might help students with their own experiments for the Science Fair. Children left school that day with an autographed Vicki Cobb book generously purchased by the PTA. Vicki Cobb certainly sparked interest in science.
